OLAF BREUNING
WED 5 MAY 6.00pm

Olaf Breuning's photographs, installations, sculptures, films and drawings are irreverent, tragically heroic and funny. His investigations into everyday imagery and 'Google Culture' submerge the viewer with a relentless deluge of references, clues and frustrating deadends. Breuning is currently engaged in a commission for St Paul's Park, Bristol which he will discuss with the curator of the project Gordon Dalton. This will be followed by a conversation around his practice with Adam Sutherland, Director of Grizedale Art. Following the talk, there will be a screening of Breuning's film Home 2.
